WRITING

I can write chapters for an All About Book.

1. It's time to write, 1st graders! You are going to start your own All About Book this week. You can pick any topic you choose. Remember, animals are always a good idea and a hobby of yours is also a very good idea!

2. In your writing journal, set up your notebook to look like this:

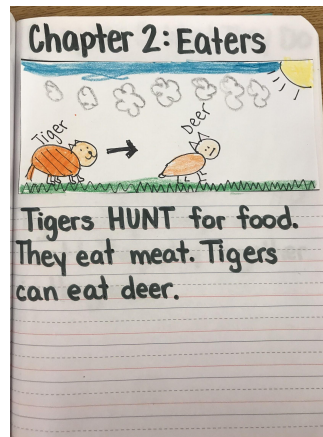

3. After you set up your writing journal, start with Chapter 1. Write facts to match the chapter title. Remember to use appropriate capitalization and punctuation when making complete sentences. Sketch a picture with labels to match your words. Take a look at my first chapter about Tigers.

WRITING

I can write chapters for an All About Book.

4. After you write, sketch, and color for Chapter 1, try for a second chapter today (Chapter 2)! Think about what facts you can write to match this chapter. Remember to use appropriate capitalization and punctuation when making complete sentences. Take a look at my second chapter, too!

Use our "How Can I Teach My Readers" chart if you need ideas of how you could write different facts.

5. Have a grown-up take a picture of your writing and email it to your teacher, OR wait until we return to school to hand in your writing journal.

WORD STUDY

I can read and write my spelling pattern words.

1. Today, let's keep practicing our spelling pattern words!
2. Read through all of your Phonics words from the attachment labeled:
Week 2 - 1st Grade Phonics Words
3. Choose one activity to complete from the attachment labeled:
1st Grade Phonics & Word Wall Menu
4. Please complete the activity in your writing journal.

A few reminders:

- Remember to look back to your spelling pattern list to choose words and spell them correctly!
  - If you are writing a story using your I words, remember to use capital letters and correct punctuation at the end of your sentences.
  - If you are completing an illustration, remember to use neat coloring and use some labels!
5. Have a grown-up take a picture of your word wall activity and email it to your teacher, OR wait until we return to school to hand in your writing journal.

READING

I can make a movie in my head to picture what's happening.

Today we will be reviewing that when you read a story, you can make a movie in your mind to help you picture what's happening.

When watching the read aloud, keep in mind that another tool that readers use their imagination to help understand their books. Readers pay attention to what is happening and imagine more than just what is in the pictures of their book. They use their imagination to turn the pictures into a movie in their mind.

1. Flip to the next blank page in your journal and label it

The Adventures of Beekle.

2. Use the following link to the read aloud of The Adventures of Beekle: The Unimaginary Friend
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=aIM5l\_iCbjI.

The first time that you play the book, I only want you to listen to the story without looking at the pictures.

3. While listening to the story, pause it on a part that you find interesting. Using just your imagination and without looking at the pictures, try to draw what you think is happening in the story using as much detail as possible.

Understanding
our Books

Check that you're getting it!

Make a movie to picture what's happening.

Keep track of who's talking.

Say the word the best you can.

Think about what it means.

READING

I can make a movie in my head to picture what's happening.

4. Continue listening to the story and pause again on a second spot. Again, try to use your imagination to draw what is happening in the story, using as much detail as possible, without looking at the pictures.

5. Once you have completed your drawings, play the video again and this time look at the pictures while the story is being read.

6. Compare the pictures that you have drawn with the pictures in the book. What is the same? What is different?

7. When you are finished, have a grown-up take a picture of your journal and email it to your teacher. Journals should also be turned in to your teacher when you return to school.

Independent Practice:

Log on to Raz Kids and read independently for 15 minutes. As you are reading, try to notice which character is talking in your books.

Log on to Raz Kids, too!

Homework:

Music

“The Car Song”

Try singing along with Mr. Wise, then see if you can do the moves yourself. We'll go slowly at first and speed it up later.

“God Bless America”

Going further, here's an amazing performance by Irving Berlin, the man who composed the song, on the Ed Sullivan Show. Joining him is a choir made of Girls Scouts and Cub Scouts. It's pretty cool.

Music Review from Week 1

Music is not a one-and-done type of learning experience. I encourage you to check out last week's plan and keep the music going!

“Three Crows”

Sing the song 2 different ways: With Mr. Wise, or skip to the middle and sing with just the guitar!

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=iR9TW-QSOVQ>

“Three Little Birds”

Also a Mr. Wise sing-along. This song always makes me feel uplifted. What words describe how it makes you feel?
